

IS THERE ANY EVIDENCE THAT EVOLUTION ISN'T TRUE?

- Howard Hendricks said, “In the midst of a generation screaming for answers, Christians are stuttering.”

- 1 Peter 3:15-16 - 15 But have reverence for Christ in your hearts, and honor him as Lord. Be ready at all times to answer anyone who asks you to explain the hope you have in you, 16 but do it with gentleness and respect.

- 1 Peter 3:15 (LBLA) 15 sino santificad a Cristo como Señor en vuestros corazones, estando siempre preparados para presentar defensa ante todo el que os demande razón de la esperanza que hay en vosotros, pero hacedlo con mansedumbre y reverencia;

- William James (1842-1910) the father of modern Psychology "There's nothing so absurd that if you repeat it often enough, people will believe it."
- Adolf Hitler said "If you tell a lie big enough and keep repeating it, people will eventually come to believe it...."
- Vladimir Lenin. "A lie told often enough becomes truth"

a lie if you

it.”*

- John 8:44- "You are of your father the devil, and you want to do the desires of your father. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth because there is no truth in him. Whenever he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own nature, for he is a liar and the father of lies. NASU
- John 8:44 (LBLA) 44 Sois de vuestro padre el diablo y queréis hacer los deseos de vuestro padre. El fue un homicida desde el principio, y no se ha mantenido en la verdad porque no hay verdad en él. Cuando habla mentira, habla de su propia naturaleza, porque es mentiroso y el padre de la mentira.

Psalms 14:1 –

“The fool has said in his heart, “There is no God.”

NASU

Psalms 10:4 - 4 The wicked, in the haughtiness of his countenance, does not seek Him. All his thoughts are, "There is no God." NASU

Psalm 10:4 (LBLA) 4 El impío, en la altivez de su rostro, no busca a Dios. Todo su pensamiento es: No hay Dios.

- Romans 1:21-22 – *“For even though they knew God, they did not honor Him as God or give thanks, but they became futile in their speculations, and their foolish heart was darkened. 22 Professing to be wise, they became fools...”*NASU
- Romans 1:21-22 (LBLA) 21 Pues aunque conocían a Dios, no le honraron como a Dios ni le dieron gracias, sino que se hicieron vanos en sus razonamientos y su necio corazón fue entenebrecido. 22 Profesando ser sabios, se volvieron necios,

- Colossians 1:16 – (ESV) 16 For by him all things were created, in heaven and on earth, visible and invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or authorities—all things were created through him and for him.
- Colossians 1:16 (LBLA) 16 Porque en El fueron creadas todas las cosas, tanto en los cielos como en la tierra, visibles e invisibles; ya sean tronos o dominios o poderes o autoridades; todo ha sido creado por medio de El y para El.

ARIS

Romans 1:20 – “For since the creation of the world His invisible attributes are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made...”

Romans 1:20 (LBLA) 20 Porque desde la creación del mundo, sus atributos invisibles, su eterno poder y divinidad, se han visto con toda claridad, siendo entendidos por medio de lo creado, de manera que no tienen excusa.

*"I'm

Genesis 1:24-25 - 24 Then God said, "Let the earth bring forth living creatures after their kind: cattle and creeping things and beasts of the earth after their kind"; and it was so. 25 God made the beasts of the earth after their kind, and the cattle after their kind, and everything that creeps on the ground after its kind; and God saw that it was good. NASU

Genesis 1:24-25 (LBLA) 24 Entonces dijo Dios: Produzca la tierra seres vivientes según su género: ganados, reptiles y bestias de la tierra según su género. Y fue así. 25 E hizo Dios las bestias de la tierra según su género, y el ganado según su género, y todo lo que se arrastra sobre la tierra según su género. Y vio Dios que era bueno.

The fossil record and Transitional Forms

There should be COUNTLESS transitional forms.

A composite image showing a chipmunk's body and tail on the left, transitioning into a crocodile's head on the right. The chipmunk's body is brown and furry, with a bushy tail. The crocodile's head is scaly and brown, with its mouth open, showing sharp teeth. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

Archaeoraptor

- “In its zeal to find the “missing link” between birds and dinosaurs, the National Geographic Society jumped on the “discovery” of “archaeoraptor.” Without obtaining independent scientific corroboration that the find was genuine, Geographic guarded its secret until the fossil was “unveiled” last October. An article in the November National Geographic magazine titled “Feathers for T-Rex?” promoted archaeoraptor as the “missing link” between dinosaurs and birds.

- The fossil was displayed at the National Geographic Society's Explorers Hall in Washington, DC, and viewed by 110,000 visitors from October through January, most of them schoolchildren.
- USA Today noted that, “Whether a deliberate fake or an honest mistake, [this] tale of a tail has children believing in feathered dinosaurs that never existed”

- A. S. Romer in Vertebrate Paleontology pg. 224 –
“What can we say about their origin? Our knowledge of the fossil history of these higher apes and of presumed human ancestors on this level is tantalizingly poor.” (meaning for all practical purposes it is non - existent)
- R.D. Martin—Vertebrate Paleontology and Evolution pg. 474 – “It should be noted ... that there is virtually no fossil evidence relating to human evolution, other than a few fragments of dubious affinities... The preceding period of human evolution therefore remains a complete mystery and an unfortunate major gap exists whatever view one takes of the time of divergence of hominids and great apes.”

RAMAPITHECUS

A Ramapithecus skull and drawings by evolutionists based upon it.

Ramapithecus is not the ancestor of humans, as depicted in these drawings, merely a species of ape.

Ramapithecus was unquestionably a chimpanzee. Eckhardt who compared the fossils to those of chimpanzees found all the variations within the chimpanzee species to fit. He concluded “Ramapithecus seems to have been an ape—morphologically, ecologically, and behaviorally.”

Ramapithecus has been removed from the “lineage of man.” However, not many years ago a flesh model of Ramapithecus was on display in the San Diego Museum of Man. Before the visitors stood almost in the flesh the “proof” of the evolution of man. But no one bothered to explain that this full fleshed evolutionary proof came from a “few teeth, a few fragments of a jaw, and a barrel full of evolutionary preconceived ideas.”

The importance of Ramapithecus in human evolution was realized with an article Simons wrote for Time magazine in November 1977, in which he stated:

"Ramapithecus is ideally structured to be an ancestor of hominids. If he isn't, we don't have anything else that is."

NEANDERTHAL MAN -

- Johann C. Fuhlrott found Neanderthal Man in 1856 in Neander Valley, near Dusseldorf, Germany.
- In the 1950's scholars began to change their minds as more of Neanderthal man's remains were discovered in Europe, Africa and Asia. The evidence now suggests that Neanderthal man wasn't part ape and part man—but was all man.

Neanderthal Man.

JAVA MAN

- Pithecanthropus Erectus. “Erect ape-man”.
- In over 10,000 meters of dirt he found the following. September 1891- a tooth. October 1891 a skull cap. August 1892- a femur. October 1892 another tooth.
- Rudolph Virchow (who founded the science of pathology) said of the remains. “In my opinion, this creature was an animal, a giant gibbon, in fact. The thigh bone has not the slightest connection with the skull.” (proved to be clearly human)

PEKING MAN

- Davidson Bolack discovered Peking Man in 1912 near Peking, China. He found over 100 teeth, thirty skulls, and some tools. Again evolutionist hoped that the missing link had been found.
 - Fortunately or unfortunately Peking Man disappeared during World War II. Meanwhile Bolack died of a heart attack.
 - However many of the scholars that have studied the discovery have now concluded that the skulls and teeth represent the remains of monkeys or baboons that had been killed and eaten by lime quarry workers.
 - The tools discovered were used to extract the brains of these monkeys so they could be eaten. Monkey brains are considered a delicacy to this day in that part of the world.

MAN

Close examinations in 1953 revealed the skull looked relatively normal for a human, but the jaw look primitive and apelike. Tests revealed that the jawbone was that of a female orangutan, that had been intentionally stained in order to match the dark brown human skull.

- Further more—the lower teeth had been filed down to match the teeth on the upper jaw (the file marks were visible) They then dipped the whole thing in acid to give it an appearance of age and presented it to the world as our “MISSING ANCESTOR”

1. Piltdown Man was discovered in 1912 and was used for over 40 years as evidence that man descended from apes.
2. Can we explain the apparent ineptness of those involved? Could it be evolutionists are so anxious to obtain proof, to find the missing link that issues of honesty, integrity, and a possible willingness to deceive are relevant?
3. The record is shameful, untrustworthy, and unscientific.
4. There is a pattern of claiming the missing link has been found. Broadcasting the claim before verified through scientific examination. Consequently the claims that proof exists have been aired, even though these “proofs” are not authentic and often hoaxes.

- NEBRASKA MAN
 - Geologist Harold Cook discovered Nebraska Man in 1922. What Harold Cook discovered was a single tooth.

- One tooth. Yet paleontologist claimed this discovery was a link in man's evolution.

A London Newspaper hired an artist TO DRAW A PICTURE OF THE ONE-MILLION YEAR OLD APEMAN

TOP: Clarence Darrow (l) and William Jennings Bryan (r). BOTTOM: the Scopes jury with Judge John Ralston on the far right.

THE SCOPES MONKEY TRIAL

Zinjanthropus –or East African Ape.

- a skull cap and a few fragments of bones.
- it belong to a variety of southern ape.

- “On Australopithecus (Lucy) the reference to Lucy (Australopithecus afarensis) would be understandable in 1981. In those days, Lucy was thought to be a human ancestor because she walked upright. Subsequent analysis of her rib cage has indicated it would have been very hard for her to breathe while standing erect; and her curved feet were much better suited for tree-climbing than walking. Lucy is just an extinct ape. We are surprised Gould did not remove the reference to Lucy from the 1994 reprint.”
 - By the way Lucy turned out to be a male chimpanzee.

RHODESIAN MAN

- A man with crushed hips assembled backward by employees of the British Museum of Natural History
- Yet he was displayed for years as evidence of the missing link.
- Evolutionary volumes continue to use him as evidence for the missing link even though he was proven to be a man!!!

ORCE MAN

- The skull cap of a six month old donkey.

FLIPPER MAN

Flipper Man?

In 1979, a “collar bone” was found at a site named Sahabi in Libya. Some scientists believed the bone belonged to a primitive ape-man. Using fossilized marine plankton at the site, evolutionists incorrectly dated this new ape-man at 5 million years old. However, this “collar bone” eventually was shown to be the fossilized rib of a marine mammal that was similar to a dolphin!

- John Reader, author of the book Missing Links wrote in The New Scientist “The entire hominid collection known today would barely cover a billiard table”
- Lyall Watson- writing in Science Digest further admitted “The fossils that decorate our family tree are so scarce that there are still more scientist than specimens. The remarkable fact is that all the physical evidence we have for human evolution can still be placed, with room to spare, inside a single coffin.”

- Do you see that every claim was either a hoax, wishful thinking, or claims made from finds ineptly handle, or that when the fossils weren't from a pig, or a dolphin or a donkey, they were clearly definable as a man or as an ape... but never a cross between man and ape.
- So would you say that there is proof that Evolution ISN'T TRUE?
 - Flipper man a collar bone. (belonged to a dolphin)
 - Orece man the skull cap of a donkey.
 - Zinjanthropus a skull cap and a few bone fragments.
 - Nebraska man a tooth (a pig tooth)
 - Java Man a skull cap, two teeth and a femur.
 - Ramapithecus a few jaw fragments and pieces of bone.
